BIJOU THEATRE

The "Iron Claw" Starts Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 14th and 15th

"THE VENGEANCE OF LEGAR"

Vampires may come and vampires may go, but the serial photoplay goes on forever. Now it's the "Iron Claw" (deliciously forbidding title) with Pathé's Peerless Pearl, she of the "Perils of Pauline" and "Exploits of Elaine" in the most popular of her roles.

It was like old times to see Miss White cover in abject terror before the villain the while her lovely eyes flashed their eloquent appeal to a sympathetic audience. And all the while we knew it was only make believe, we felt as we did when, in Treasure Island, the hero, the pirate, the pirate ship. Surely the scenario man didn't intend to let virtue be trodden under foot? But no, the next instant just as only the worst could happen, rising intermediately between the torturer and the tortured appears "The Laughing Mask" alias, the Righter of Wrongs, and we know all's well, for the present at least.

The story is absorbing. It begins years ago on an island in the south. Enoch Golden, a wealthy planter, catches Julius Legar, a scheming physician making love to his wife in an attempt to learn the secret hiding place of Golden's wealth. Suspecting the worst, Golden sends his wife away, and as punishment to Legar, has his handsome face branded with white-hot irons, and his hand crushed in a vise. Then Legar sets free, swears vengeance and begins his villainy by opening the sluice gates that keep the sea from inundating the island. The waters rush in and we get a thrill at seeing the entire island flooded and the houses swept away in the swirling waters. Legar kidnaps Golden's daughter Margery, whom, in the next scene, twenty years later, we see grown to beautiful maidenhood, in his ominous power. Hate still lives in Legar's heart, and he sends Margery to a denizen of the underworld in whose house she is to be detained. But here steps in he who saves her, for the moment of her fate, a mysterious gallant known as "The Laughing Mask."

Pearl White as Margery Golden, in her old delightful role, Orlington Hale as her father's secretary, is charming and handsome, and should on Lewis as Legar, lead the Iron Claw does the villain stuff with dash and reality.

The Red Feather photoplay for Wednesday next is a five act drama featuring Robert Bowyer in "The Neighbor." A Nestor comedy will also be shown that evening.

On Friday and Saturday of next week will be shown a varied program of comedies and dramas, also the News of the World in pictures.

Remember the Bijou Theatre will be open every evening after this week.

The management of the Bijou wish to deny the rumor that they have changed their orchestra, or that they have any intention of doing so. The same orchestra will continue to present the unrivalled quality of music as they have been giving heretofore.

*We will buy your second hand piano, organ or sewing machine, provided they are in good condition and the price is right. J. H. Robinson's Piano Parlor, Burns Block, Wetaskiwin.

ASSELSTYNE - McALLISTER

At the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. A. K. McAllister, of Penton, B.C., on August 2, 1916, E. B. Asselstine, R.M.A., of Wetaskiwin, was united in marriage to Dora Margaret McAllister, late of the teaching staff of the city of Calgary, by G. A. Paul, pastor of the Baptist church, Penton, B.C. Mr. and Mrs. Asselstine will be at home at Wetaskiwin after September 5, 1916.

PEARSON - ANDERSON

The Scandinavian Congregational church at New Sweden was a scene of a very pretty wedding last Wednesday afternoon, August 2, when Miss Ruth Florence Anderson was united in marriage to Mr. Walter Pearson, the bride being the eldest daughter of Rev. and Mrs. C. G. Anderson, and the groom, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Pearson, all of the New Sweden district, east of Wetaskiwin.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. G. Anderson, father of the bride and pastor of the church, in the presence of relatives and guests. The church was artistically decorated and a pretty wedding arch had been arranged under which the bridal party stood during the ceremony. The bride was attired in a beautiful gown of white satin and a cream silk embroidered net, with a long veil beautifully draped in a 'v' shape and carried a shower bouquet of pink and white sweet peas.

The bridesmaids were Miss Ruth Pearson, sister of the groom, and Miss Hilma Nelson, of Calgary, an intimate friend of the bride. They were attired in white dresses of shadow lace over white silk and each carried a bouquet of sweet peas. The groomsmen were Mr. Scrim Pyper and Rev. G. S. Hawkinson. The flower girls were Miss Edna Anderson, sister of the groom, and Miss Florence Pearson, sister of the groom. The bridesmaids wore white dresses of shadow lace over white silk and carried bouquets of small white daisies.

Miss Ruth Swanson played the wedding march. After the ceremony Rev. G. A. Sanden made a short address to the bridal party and a beautiful song was sung by Rev. and Mrs. Sanden and Miss B. Boreth of Highland Park. Light refreshments were served in the church. A reception was afterwards held at the home of the bride's parents.

During the evening an interesting program was held, when speeches were given by Mr. J. G. Berg, and N. B. Anderson; poems read by Mr. Sandberg of Edmonton and Mrs. G. A. Sanden of Highland Park. Congratulations and telegrams were read by Rev. G. S. Hawkinson.

A piano solo was rendered by Miss Ruth Swanson. A handsome bouquet to which was tied a silk bag filled with gold, was presented to the bride by Rev. G. A. Sanden, in an appropriate address. This money was a wedding present from the many friends in New Sweden. Many handsome and valuable wedding gifts consisting of silver, cut glass and linen were received during the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradenburg of Malmoe had charge of the reception. The waiters at the reception were Miss Ruth Swanson, Miss Berg, Miss Lily Anderson, Miss Mary Johnson, Mr. John Berg, Mr. Victor Hawkinson and Mr. E. Holtner. Mrs. Justina Anderson, Mrs. C. R. Ellison and Mrs. S. W. Weaver were also busy workers.

In addition to the large crowd from New Sweden, guests were present from Wetaskiwin, Malmoe, Water Glen, Highland Park, Meston Creek, Edmonton, Calgary and Camrose.

Mr. and Mrs. Pearson will make their home on the groom's farm at New Sweden. Their host of friends join in wishing them a long, happy and prosperous journey through life.

Demise of Henry Nelson

Another pioneer citizen has passed away in the person of Henry Nelson, who died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Moore, Lewiston, Idaho, on August 1. The late Mr. Nelson was born at Vermont, Illinois, eighty years ago, and resided in different parts of the United States until April, 1900, when he joined in the great immigration to Alberta, and after looking over several tempting locations, decided to settle in Wetaskiwin. As he was a contractor and builder he erected much of the largest buildings in the city. Last autumn, he left on a visit to his sons and daughters in the United States, and a few weeks ago his health began to wane and he gradually weakened, having served faithfully his four score years. His wife predeceased him six years ago. He leaves to mourn his loss four daughters and three sons, namely: Mrs. Fred Moore, Lewiston, Idaho, who was present at the funeral; Mrs. Ed Blount, Godfrey, Ill.; Mrs. H. B. Hall, Wardner, Idaho; Mrs. G. H. Hobson, Calgary, Wm., and Cephus Nelson, Dallas, Ore.; Wm. Nelson, Godfrey, Ill.; and Fred Nelson, who is now serving his King and Country in France's champion.

The remains were brought back to Wetaskiwin for interment in the family plot in the Wetaskiwin cemetery, arriving here on Friday last. The funeral services took place at the Salvation Army barracks on Friday afternoon, where a very large crowd assembled to pay their last tribute of respect to a former highly respected citizen and friend. The pallbearers were all old-time friends, namely: Messrs. F. B. Kelley, Jos. Payne, J. H. Peterson, Geo. T. Watkinson and J. R. Richards.

Wetaskiwin Exhibition

As the time approaches for the holding of the Eighteenth Annual exhibition of the Wetaskiwin Agricultural Society on Tuesday and Wednesday, August 22 and 23, it is more apparent than ever that the attractions this year will be fully as good or better than former years, as entries for all kinds of stock, poultry, and the secretary has received inquiries for prize lists from many unexpected sources. No doubt the classes of all kinds will be fully up to the standard, and this is saying a good deal, as Wetaskiwin is credited with having one of the best exhibitions in the province. The public can rest assured that when the time comes Wetaskiwin Fair will offer two full days of education and pleasure.

Entries for all the events close on Saturday, August 19, but the secretary requests that the entries be made as early as possible as there is a great deal of work entailed in the completing of all books for the use of the judges. The department of agriculture will supply government seed of all live stock and the judging is done in the open, so that all may profit thereby.

Much interest is being taken in the program of races, and no doubt the classes will be well filled both days. Baseball teams are expected that Saturday of this week is the last day for receiving entries for the tournament, although some entries have already been received.

Bijou Being Attractively Decorated

The Variety Picture Co., which opened up the Bijou Theatre the first of the month, is busily engaged in making the interior of the building as pretty and home-like as possible. The screen has been moved back some distance, and the operator's compartment is being removed entirely from the hall, thus eliminating the hum of the projector from the patrons. The front of the building, on either side of the screen has been artistically decorated with lattice work, crisscrossing through which are vines and clusters of grapes, with colored lights in the rear, while palms and moss adorn the foreground. The monotony of the side walls has been relieved by a neat arrangement of flowers of all kinds, while a profusion of ferns also decorate the ante-room. When the management complete the program of improvements they have in mind, the Bijou will be one of the most attractive theatres in western Canada.

GASOLINE AND ITS HAZARDS

Gasoline is one of the lighter products of petroleum. It is very volatile, i.e., it vaporizes rapidly at ordinary temperatures; anyone who has spilled a little on the floor will have noticed that it disappears quickly. This vapor is very inflammable and mixed with the proper proportion of air it will explode with great violence if ignited. The vapor from one pint of gasoline will make over 200 cubic feet of air explosive.

Gasoline vapor is heavier than air and consequently it falls to the floor or it has been known to be carried along the floor by a draft and ignited at a considerable distance from its source.

Gasoline therefore is extremely dangerous to life and property and it should be handled as carefully as a gunpowder or other explosive. Few people realize this, with the result that every year we have a large number of serious fires, frequently accompanied by loss of life.

Since the invention of the automobile the consumption of gasoline has increased enormously. It is used extensively for cleaning and to a considerable extent for lighting and in stoves for cooking; in short it is an exceedingly useful commodity and it is highly important that the public should be more acquainted with its properties and hazards. The only safe place to keep gasoline is outside and the larger the quantity the further it should be kept away from buildings, in towns, no larger quantity than one barrel should be kept on any one premises in the business district or other congested parts and this should be at least 10 feet away from any building.

The best way for law-abiding stores, garages etc., to keep gasoline is in an underground tank fitted with pump and hose. Gasoline should never be purchased in bottles or cans of oil cans, but only in cans painted red and marked "Caution" which are kept up to be broken and when gasoline is kept in cans of oil it is apt to be mistaken for coal oil and used for lighting lamps or starting a fire in the stove. Many serious accidents are caused in this way; starting a fire with coal oil is a hazardous proceeding, but gasoline is very much worse.

Never use gasoline in a building from an open pan or vessel; if it is necessary to use it in this way do it outside. Tailors and others who use a little gasoline for cleaning purposes should keep it in a self-venting safety can.

Never use gasoline near open lights or fires and never smoke or strike matches while using it; the room in which it is being used should be well ventilated. After cleaning gloves or other articles do not put them near a stove to dry; they should be hung outside until all the gasoline has evaporated. In cleaning silk there is great danger of the gasoline being ignited by a spark caused by the generation of friction electricity, especially if the silk is washed and rubbed in the gasoline; this should only be done outside and considerable care exercised even then; better still, send it to a cleaner.

If you use a gasoline stove, never attempt to fill the tank with a burner lighted and be careful not to spill any gasoline.

If your neighbor is careless with gasoline, warn him about it. You may be the means of saving his life. During 1915, 35 persons were reported burned to death in Canada by gasoline explosions and lighting fires with coal oil and gasoline, and there were doubtless others not reported.

If you don't want to have your name on the list in some future report you may prevent it by exercising care in handling this useful but dangerous material.

STRIVING TO PLEASE

"We strive to please," the merchant said; his smile was large and loose; he then sold me a cabbage head for which I had no use. He sold me seven cans of peas, five pounds of shredded rice, a section of imported cheese and mackerel on ice. No doubt when I had left his place, despoiled of hard-earned plank, a smile lit up the merchant's face, since he had sold that junk. But to myself I said, "I think I'll trade with him no more; that merchant's price is on the blink, his methods make me sore. He greets a man with sunny smiles, and says he strives to please, and then by dirty arts and wiles, unloads his mucky cheese. The patron thus made to buy much truck he doesn't wish, old sausage that offends the nose and prehistoric fish. That sort of treatment chafes and galls the souls of honest men, and I shall buy no coddish baubles at that man's place again." The dealer who would sidestep woes must be a prudent guy; he'll figure that the patron knows all what he wants to buy—Walt Mason.

TIRIED OF THE GAME

A couple of Chinese were induced by a mission worker to attend Sunday school. The teacher passed a collection box.

For several Sundays the Chinamen contributed their nickels. At last one of them looked up when the collection box came his way and asked: "Wal-a-matt? God bloke allow time?"

SELLING WOOL FOR FARMERS

To increase its business activity in one year is an experience which few enterprises can boast in times like these, yet this is the record of the Alberta Provincial Sheep Breeders' Association, which is doing so much to build up the sheep-breeding industry in the province.

One of the means used to encourage the sheep industry which will in time be one of the largest in the province is that of securing the highest possible market price for wool. Last year approximately 1000 fleeces were sold through the association; this year over ten thousand will be handled, bringing these fleeces down to pounds, shillings and pence, last year the wool handled by the association amounted to about 12,500 lbs. This year the amount has increased to about 80,000 lbs. This was represented in money by a return of $3,592.95 to thirty-one farmers in 1915. This year the farmers will receive about $39,000 for their wool. This will be divided among about 125 farmers who have availed themselves of the way of disposing of their wool, being unable to secure a higher price elsewhere.

The Alberta Provincial Sheep Breeders' Association has a membership of 216. A. B. Campbell is president; Geo. R. Hall of Weyburn, Saskatchewan, is vice-president, and W. J. Stark is secretary. The directors are D. W. Warner, James McCharg, J. J. Ferguson of Edmonton, R. C. Young of Millet and Wm. Gilbert of Stony Plain.

This is a busy time for the association, since the wool is arriving and going through the grading system on the exhibition grounds at Edmonton. The system of government grading was decided on by the government when investigation proved that the Canadian manufacturers would not buy Canadian grown wool. It was felt that this condition of affairs should not be allowed to continue, that something could be done which would increase the sheep-raising industry and also get the manufacturers interested. Nine graders are out and in Alberta almost no wool will be handled over three million pounds of wool, as against 500,000 pounds graded last year.

The Edmonton Exhibition Association co-operates with the Sheep Breeders' Association in this regard by placing the buildings for handling the wool at the disposal of the Sheep Breeders' association, by sending out instructions to the farmers as to the best way of handling their wool, to secure the highest possible price, by sending out sacks and twine for shipping purposes, and also placing, at the disposal of the latter, a clearing house, which is now being established at the exhibition office, which is now becoming the clearing house for all live stock questions in this part of the province.

On receiving their instructions, the farmers pack the fleeces in bundles, sack them and ship them to Edmonton. This is the beginning of the system which carries the wool from the producer to the consumer, with satisfactory results all around. At the grounds it is turned over to the graders, who turn out the sacks, keeping a strict record of all wool, grade the wool according to the nature, then according to cleanliness; repack the sacks, after which it is weighed, and each sack stamped with the government stamp, weight and quality and the number of the consignor.

And while we are talking about war time extravagance don't blame it all on the women. It is true that dresses cost more than when they were tighter fitting and it is also true that some women now pay ten dollars for a pair of boots, but a man will spend ten dollars on gasoline for joy-riding and think nothing of it. He will even buy a new automobile in these straits. Times are hard and never but an eyelash at economy, and the men who found the money to find with the young people last winter for spending a few dollars on pleasure are just as extravagant as anyone else in the purchase of their own favorite pleasure this summer—Ex.

Major Chas. W. Hawes, clerk for over twenty years of the Modern Woodmen of America, died at his home, Rock Island, Ill., on Friday last.

Had Pimples and Festering Sores ON HER FACE.

When the blood gets bad, boils, pimples and festering sores break out on the face and body. To get rid of them the blood should be cleaned by Burdock Blood Bitters.

Mrs. Charles Jewell, Orville, Ont., writes: "I feel it my duty to tell you about what Burdock Blood Bitters has done for me. I was so pale and did not eat at all. I had pimples and festering sores on my face, and my head ached nearly all the time. I had been reading in the paper and saw that Burdock Blood Bitters was good for such troubles so I tried a bottle and before it was half done I felt fine, and when the bottle was finished I felt like a new woman. I tell all my friends about it, and advise everyone suffering from such trouble to use B.B.B."

There is only one B.B.B. That is the genuine, manufactured by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

SUGGEST RECRUITING A U.F.A. BATTALION

The question of recruiting a United Farmers of Alberta battalion was discussed at the conference in Edmonton yesterday afternoon, of the president and directors of that association with Major Kerby, chief recruiting officer for Alberta. Present: H. W. Wood, first vice president; Z. L. Dunham, second vice president; Z. L. Dunham, and chief vice president; H. C. Sheppard, directors of the large representative farmers' organization of the province, instructed Secretary P. P. Woodbridge, U.F.A., to circulate the local unions and receive their instructions as to whether they wish to proceed in the matter.

Among the more important questions discussed at this directors meeting was the most efficient means of utilizing the military forces of the province in the saving of the present crop of the province.

Among the many suggestions offered at the meeting by Major Kerby in aid of extensive recruiting throughout the province were: That a military and labor bureau be established at Calgary and issue the following application form for those farmers needing help; that for farmers wishing to apply collectively or for individual applications. Addressed in either case to be required.

No. 1.—Full name, married or single, occupation.

2.—Number of male help eligible for military service, over 17 years of age, including owner and family.

3.—Past office holding, and sectional description of land.

4.—Number of acres under crop.

5.—Are you willing to use your influence in persuading eligible help for enlistment.

That the United Farmers of Alberta have countersigned over 1,000 men to the strength of overseas forces was the statement of Secretary P. P. Woodbridge. H. C. Sheppard, third vice president of the organization, believes that from the five hundred or more locals throughout the province, it would not be a difficult matter to get two from each local in the formation of a United Farmers of Alberta battalion as suggested by Major Kerby. The Major also proposed a local committee system, whereby a committee from each local could look after its own recruiting interests. Other possibilities of the U.F.A. of Alberta, being able to give direct aid to recruiting were discussed, Major Kerby stating that war, agriculture and recruiting should be run on a co-operative basis, although he did not believe in depicting the necessary farm help, despite the fact that the empire needed in its ranks at the present time every available man.

TRADE WORTH WHILE

Dr. M. Clark, M.P., writes: "I sometimes tell them in the House of Commons that I wish the apple growers of British Columbia and the manufactory of Ontario would take a leaf out of the book of the grain growers of the plains and the cattle raisers of Alberta. What is the idea? Why it is this: That we raise such fine wheat and such beautiful beef that we defy competition, and can come from where it may. That is the kind of man the world has got to beat and that is the kind of country one would be proud to inhabit."

Julius Schroeder, the former proprietor of the Arlington Hotel, Millet, appeared before A. G. Campbell, J.P., on Friday to answer to a charge laid by the provincial authorities for keeping and having a quantity of liquor in his possession contrary to the new liquor act. He pleaded guilty and was fined $50 and costs which was paid. The alternative was two months in jail. Several stacks of hard stuff was confiscated at the same time.—Leduc Representative.

Mr. Rosetz, residing southwest of Pelly, took a .22 rifle out with him while moving in order to get change shots at coyotes. The rifle accidentally went off and the bullet entered the body close to the stomach. He was brought to Red Deer, but the X-ray failed to reveal the bullet. After a day or two at the hospital, Mr. Rosetz departed for home, and appears to be doing business as usual.—Advocate.

Leonard Ramsey, eldest son of Mr. R. J. Ramsey, Massey-Harris agent, writes under the First Pioneer, with which he is now serving, have had orders twice to move from their training place in France, they had not gone yet.—Red Deer Advocate.

Fines totalling $1,017.75 were imposed in the Calgary police court during the month of July for infractions of the new liquor laws, which came into effect on July 1. The greater part of these fines were paid.

New Zealand has decided in favor of the compulsory military service bill, applicable to men of any age not less than twenty and less than forty-six.

REGENERATED HOTELS

J. E. Woodsworth, director of the Western Interprovincial Bureau of Social Research, has just issued a questionnaire on rural community. "Think of some of the important community problems that are forcing themselves upon our consideration," he says. "What shall we substitute for the bar-room? What do we do with the hotel? Is the regenerated hotel become a social centre? Could a rest room be provided in each hotel? Could the district nurse occupy one or two of the rooms? Why not a library and reading room and games room? The non-English immigrant is to be found in most districts. He is here to stay. His children will marry your children. Is he contributing his part in the upbuilding of our national life? Does he understand our Canadian life and ideals? Have we given him a fair deal? Have we given him a chance to learn English? What opportunities are there for him to gain a knowledge of our political affairs?"

"A campaign for better schools is being carried on in some districts. Why not in every community on the prairie? Is the present curriculum suited to conditions in rural districts? Is it training our boys and girls for better and efficient citizenship? Is the school doing the broader educational work needed in your district? We say that the welfare of our children is our chief concern. Is the school teacher the best man or the most competent woman in the community—the most honored—the best paid?"

"In view of these and other problems, one of the first steps seems to be a careful study of existing conditions and needs and the educational lines of work. One practical result of widespread interest in such a study should be the development of the 'Social Centre Movement,' that will lead to the unification of country life. A second practical result should be the training of an interested, dedicated group which would ultimately make intelligent legislators, intelligent legislators and intelligent local administration."

ANGUS RIDGE
By request of the former pupils and friends of the late Mr. Herbert Shaw, a memorial service was held in Angus Ridge school on Sunday last. The day was fine, and the school, decorated with flowers, was filled to overflowing by an attentive audience. All were deeply touched by the appropriate hymns rendered by the choir, and by the reading of the lesson. Rev. W. Hamilton presided, a suitable sermon on the mystery of providence, and concluded by a reference to the deceased. "Does not this subject," it was asked in conclusion, "tend in some measure to convince us of the fact that the death which we in common with his widowed mother and friends this day mourn, will, though for the present shrouded in mystery, be yet fully explained? We cannot tell why one so young, vigorous and active, should in such a sudden manner be called from time to eternity—we cannot tell why one so refined in manners and amiable in disposition should be snatched away from those who loved and admired him—we cannot tell why one whose professional career was full of promise should at such an early stage of life be called to lay it down—we cannot tell why one whose life was so pure and whose ideals were so lofty should in early life be taken from admiring pupils and staunch friends. These are things which transcend our comprehension, but we may rest assured that he has not lived in vain if his record should stimulate some to lives of greater purity, higher endeavors and more consecrated aims. And his death was in beautiful harmony with his life. It was one of self-sacrifice. ### OF

CHOLERA INFANTUM

By DR. FOWLER'S

EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY.

Cholera Infantum is one of the most common summer complaints of infants, and many die who could be saved if properly looked after on the first sign of the trouble.

It begins with a profuse diarrhoea, very often accompanied by vomiting, and the matter ejected from the stomach has a bilious appearance. The child rapidly loses flesh and becomes weak and languid.

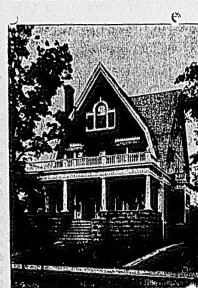

On the first sign of cholera infantum Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry should be administered, and thus check the diarrhoea before it becomes serious.

"Dr. Fowler's" has been on the market for the past seventy years, so you are not experimenting with some new and untried remedy when you use it, but be sure and get "Dr. Fowler's" when you ask for it.

Mrs. B. A. Crevell, Rosaway, N.S., writes: "I can recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry most highly. A friend of mine had a little daughter who was ill with cholera infantum, and was given up by the doctors. The little one's mother asked me to come in and see the child. I told her I had a bottle of 'Dr. Fowler's,' and asked her if she would try it. When the bottle was half used the child was well. This cure was a miraculous one, for I thought the child was dying at the time."

The genuine Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont. Price, 35 cents.

Points for Mothers

Poisons and Antidotes.

The mother who knows just what to do when the terrible accident of a dose of poison must be treated at once may save a child's life. It is every one's duty to have in mind a list of antidotes for ordinary poisons. If your memory is not good make one on a piece of paper and paste it on the wall of the bathroom.

Of course the prevention of the possibility of a child's taking poison is the important thing, but accidents are always occurring in the most carefully watched homes.

Impress on a child's mind the importance of taking nothing without permission. "Candy pills" may sometimes be poison. Sometimes a mother gives poison by mistaking a bottle in the medicine chest. An excellent idea is to have all bottles not only labeled, but marked with a card, on which a little bell is tied. This easy warning is particularly good in the dark, when so many mistakes occur.

Carbolic acid is one of the ordinary poisons that are found in the house and frequently taken in mistake. It burns the mouth, and its odor is unmistakable. Give copious sals in abundance.

Corrosive sublimate should be kept in a low register and lower the arms regularly, as is done in cases of drowning.

A child may take a large quantity of alcohol, which is classed as a poison. Give any simple emetic, such as mustard water, soap and water, etc. Apply a cold douche on the head and warmth to the body. If respiration is at a low register raise and lower the arms regularly, as is done in cases of drowning.

Corrosive sublimate should be kept in a low register and lower the arms regularly, as is done in cases of drowning.

Opium, including laudanum, morphine, paregoric or soothing syrups, can be counteracted by permanganate of potash in doses of four to five grains if the mistake is detected right away. Strong coffee is another antidote; also atropine. Keep the patient awake at all costs by walking, artificial respiration and a cold douche on the head and spine.

Phosphorus poisons include matches and some roach and rat poisons. Give an emetic and follow it by doses of permanganate of potash, four or five grains well diluted. Epsom salts or magnesia should then be administered to open the bowels. Do not give milk or oil of any kind.

Silver nitrate (lunar caustic) has an antidote in table salt, followed by an emetic. Milk or whites of eggs are also effective.

Strychnine, especially in pills, is mistaken often for other medicine. Its antidote is tannic acid following an emetic. Bromide of potash given freely is good.

Alkalies, including ammonia, potash, caustic, should be treated by vinegar or lemon juice followed by sweet oil.

A Baby's Party.

Mothers who wish to celebrate the first anniversary of the baby's birthday should give a party after the following suggestions:

All the guests should be mothers, who can also bring their babies, and the invitations should be sent out to the infants themselves with a note to the effect that "you can bring your mother with you if you like."

Other guests may be invited, but it is understood that all are to be baby worshippers, as the party is not to be spoiled by the presence of cranks.

The tea table should be decorated with little cradles of gilded wicker-work filled with the appropriate bloom of the month and tied with a lover's knot of satin ribbon to harmonize. In the center should be an arch of flowers towering above the baby's birthday cake, decorated with its own white candle, or, as some say, two, one to be the "life candle" and to be kept for the second birthday cake.

A postcard photograph of the baby, with the date of its birth in silver letters beneath, should be given to each guest and a small knot of flowers presented to all the babies assembled. One of the features of the afternoon is the baby guessing competition, in which every mother takes part.

Across the doorway is hung a curtain with a hole large enough to contain a baby's hand. One at a time each baby thrusts its fingers through this hole, and the mothers are asked to identify the child.

A prize of a baby's bib or a dainty pillowcase may be given, and the mother who makes the most mistakes is awarded a foolcap.

For the Schoolgirl.

To make a dress wear longer and look better while it lasts pretty collar and cuff sets in white or pale toned linens prettily trimmed with lace are a wise investment for the small girl, as they are easily laundered. They should be made in various shapes and sizes.

Sandpaper Baby's Shoes.

Always sandpaper the soles of baby's new shoes before they have been worn. This keeps her from slipping on the bare or polished floors and prevents many a bad fall, which could easily result in a sprain or broken bone.

BRIGHTVIEW

Everybody is busy haying this week as it was delayed last week on account of the rainy weather.

Brightview vicinity will certainly have about the heaviest crop this season if no hail or other form of destruction comes along. Although rather late this season, if no early frost appears the outlook could not be better.

Quite a few had more or less timothy hay damaged on account of too much rain lately and when it was dry no one could get help to stack it as haying and harvest hands are very scarce.

Mr. Miller will soon have his new house completed.

Jack Shadlock has been doing a lot of breaking lately, and in order to get it done he purchased two more horses, one from John Olson and one from Chas. Krause.

L. P. Larson and family spent Sunday at Pigeon Lake.

Miss Ruth Larson visited with her sister in Canrose last Sunday; and Monday.

Mrs. John Olson was in Wetaskiwin on Tuesday for another treatment with Dr. Scanlon, of Edmonton.

New hay is getting to be quite plentiful as the Indians are hauling it every day to Brightview.

O. G. Olson transacted business in Wetaskiwin on Tuesday.

Wetaskiwin people are astonished at the INSTANT action of simple buxworth bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler's-ka. ONE SPOONFUL removes such surprising foul matter it relieves almost ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas.

Because Adler's-ka sets on BOTH lower and upper bowel, a few doses often relieve or prevent appendicitis. A short treatment helps chronic stomach trouble.—T. F. Ball, druggist.

The World's Markets

Chicago, Aug. 8.—Although the government crop report turned out to be more bullish as to wheat than even the radicals had expected, bearish misgivings concerning what would be shown ruled the market most of the time today and were only overcome late in the day by word of liberal European purchasing, and advice that black rust in Canada was becoming worse. The market closed firm, 1 to 1 1/2 net higher, with September at 12 1/2 and December at 13 1/2. In corn the outcome ranged from 1/2 decline to 1 to 1 1/2 advance, oats finished 1 to 1 1/2 down and provisions up 6 to 13 1/2.

As the government crop report is based upon conditions no later than for the most part, July 25, and much of the damage to the spring wheat had not developed until after that date, the trade as a rule was disposed at first to be extremely cautious about accepting estimates that the total yield to be predicted at Washington would be as low as 675,000,000 bushels, few, if any, traders were prepared for the total announced after the close—654,000,000 bushels.

The fact that Liverpool quotations were lower and that cable advice said buyers seemed to be holding off until after the issuance of the Washington report was a further discouragement to the bulls. Later, however, it began to appear that Europeans were buying on a big scale, especially at Winnipeg.

Total purchases of wheat by Europe, as finally given out, aggregated two million bushels, mostly Manitoba. Besides, dispatches from a leading exporter said that more than 50 per cent of the crop in Saskatchewan was likely to be badly injured by black rust. Winnipeg authorities said Manitoba was yielding only 8 to 10 bushels an acre where culture was going on, and that many of the fields would not be cut at all.
